

UNIVERSITY of HAWAII at MĀNOA
WILLIAM S. RICHARDSON
SCHOOL OF LAW

Co-Sponsored with the Center for Chinese Studies; Institute for Asia Pacific Bankruptcy Law; and the Pacific Asian Management Institute and Center for International Business Education and Research

“Riding out the Economic Doldrums: The Hong Kong Story”

A dynamic lecture on Hong Kong's latest developments (after the reunification with the Mainland China in 1997), measures to stimulate the economic performance amid the global economic turmoil, as well as the trade relations with US and Hawai'i.

by

DONALD TONG, JP

Hong Kong Commissioner for Economic and Trade Affairs, USA

Wednesday, October 21, 2009

4 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.

Moot Courtroom
University of Hawai'i at Mānoa
William S. Richardson School of Law
2515 Dole Street
Honolulu, HI 96822

For more info call 956-8567 or email lawevent@hawaii.edu
Free and Open to the Public

Being the most senior representative of Hong Kong in America, Commissioner Tong directs the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region Government's efforts in promoting US-Hong Kong economic and trade relationship, as well as constituency-building activities in the US. His base is in the Hong Kong Economic and Trade Office in Washington DC, which maintains good working relations with the US administration and has a public relations role to explain what is happening in Hong Kong.